HOFFMANN AND GORNO PLEASE MUSIC LOVERS

Representative Audience Greeted Distinguished Musicians Brought Here by Bach Club

(By Mrs. D. M. Walker)

The wide interest manifested in the recital given by Mr. Frederick J. Hoffmann, pianist, assisted by Mr. Giacinto Gorno, vocalist of the College of Music, Cincinnati, at the opera house on Saturday night was an indication of the deep appreciation of local music lovers for such high class productions. The house was tested to its capacity, and a delighted audience greeted each number on the program with a round of applause. Mr. Hoffmann is to be admired for the brilliancy of his technique, but he challenges the still higher appreciation from the ethical point of view. This was clearly demonstrated in his performance of the opening number on the program, the D-Minor Sonata of Beethoven, from which breathed forth such genuine Beethoven spirit not often heard. Papillons, by Schumann, was especially well received and a splendid climax was reached in the closing number from Tristan and Isolde.

Mr. Gorno's selections were all of exceptionally pleasing character and were perfectly suited to his fine baritone voice. In him is found the happy combination of wonderful endowment and artistic equipment for concert work.

The people of Stanford feel deeply grateful to Miss Ellen Ballou and her Bach Club for this evening of such rare enjoyment, and the genuine enthusiasm with which this splendid recital was received, will no doubt be an inspiration to these progressive young musicians and their very capable teacher to present to the community many more such uplifting influences. It is to be hoped that Mr. Hoffmann, who is a great favorite here, will cherish the recollection of the sincere appreciation of his work by the Stanford public, and that it may be the good fortune of the music lovers of our town to have him in our midst again in the not very distant future.

A fitting climax to the Hoffmann-Gorno recital was the generous act of Mr. Hoffmann in presenting the Bach Club of the Stanford High School with $25. This sum was the amount of proceeds left after all expenses were paid. Besides the generosity, the act also attests the fact that these men are not out for the "loaves and fishes," but to spread the gospel of good music and to assist in every movement for the betterment of civic pride. The club deeply appreciates the spirit that prompted the generous deed and hopes for the return of these genial gentlemen and master musicians.

A $1,000 Pair of Mules

A dispatch from Winchester, to the Lexington Herald Sunday said: J. D. Duvall, of the firm of Gentry, Thompson & Duvall, has sold a pair of mules, three and four years old, to S. T. Harbison, of Lexington, for New York buyers for $1,000 cash. The mules are 16 hands high and weigh 2,900 pounds, and have won prizes at fairs all over this section of the state. Duvall & Lindsay sold to R. N. Ratliff, of Winchester, 33 yearling mules at $140 each.

Foot Still in Bad Shape

Col. Dan Hester was here Saturday in his auto from King's Mountain, to consult Dr. W. B. O'Bannon. His right foot has been giving him a great deal of trouble and pain for the past month and his physician at a loss to diagnose the cause. The member is black, giving it the appearance of blood poison, but Mr. Hester nor his physicians are of the opinion that such is the case as he never suffered any injury to the foot.

Attending Concrete Convention

Jas. Phillips, the hustling local concrete contractor, accompanied by Albert Phillips, left for Pittsburg, Saturday to take in the big exposition of concrete manufacturers. Mr. Phillips believes in keeping posted in regard to all the improvements in his business and is not taking any chances on getting behind the procession of progress.

Colds Go Over Night.

If your head is stuffed up and you have a hard cold you can quickly get rid of the misery.

First, look after the bowels; any good cathartic will do, then breathe Booth's HYOMEI which promptly kills germ life and heals the membrane.

Breathe HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) in the daytime through the little hard rubber inhaler, and just before going to bed at night do this. Pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEI into a kitchen bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe for several minutes the soothing, healing vapor that arises. This treatment is also fine for sore throat and ear-ache.

Complete HYOMEI outfit including inhaler, $1 extra bottle if needed. 50 cents and G. L. Penny is authorized to refund your money if dissatisfied.

Our stock must be reduced to dissolve partnership. Cummins & Wearen.

BRYAN JONES

Badly Cut in Sunday Fight by Another West End Youth

A warrant for the arrest of Rod Jarboe, a youth of 14 years was issued yesterday by Judge Bailey. Jarboe is charged with cutting Bryan Jones, age 15, also of McKinney. From reports it seems that the youths were indulging in a card game Sunday afternoon when a dispute arose and Jarboe drew a knife and proceeded to carve Jones up. He received one gash in the back of the knife nearly severed one of his ears. His coat was cut from the shoulder to the bottom, showing that the assailant was doing his best to exterminate his adversary.

Jarboe's trial has not yet been set, but will likely be held tomorrow. The wounded boy is pretty badly used up but is not thought to be seriously hurt. He is a son of the late James T. Jones, who formerly conducted a restaurant here and moved to McKinney with his mother shortly after his father's death, which occurred several years ago.

Stallion with Lock Jaw

Cecilian Leaf the valuable standard bred stallion belonging to C. E. Tate, of this place, is desperately sick with lock jaw at his paddock on Mr. Tate's Pink Cottage farm on the Stanford and Hustonville pike.

The stallion showed symptoms of sickness on last Friday morning and Mr. Tate immediately phoned to Danville for Dr. H. L. Casey, the well known veterinarian. After a careful examination the surgeon pronounced the trouble lock jaw and said that there was not more than one chance in a hundred for the animal's recovery.

Cecilian Leaf is by the famous sire Red Leaf and was purchased by his present owner at a fancy price about three years ago. He has proven a great sire and his death would entail quite a loss to his owner.

Euhanks.

J. R. Lee sold his farm near town for $4,000.

NIECE OF MRS. P. L. BRUCE

Killed in Automobile Accident in Georgia—Father Badly Hurt.

Mrs. P. L. Bruce received a message Sunday from Cartersville, Ga., conveying the sad intelligence of the death at that place of her niece, Miss Caroline Dubose, in an automobile accident. Miss Dubose's father, who was local editor of the Atlanta Constitution, was also badly injured. Miss Dubose had visited Mrs. Bruce here a few months ago and made many friends here.

Rev. and Mrs. Bruce left Sunday evening at 5:49 for Atlanta to attend the funeral of Miss Dubose and to be at the bedside of her father. The numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce here and elsewhere will learn with deep regret of the sad affair and extend sympathies to them in their sorrow.

The following dispatch in Sunday's Courier Journal sent out from Atlanta, gives the details of the sad affair:

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 14.—Miss Carolyn Dubose, daughter of W. T. Dubose, department editor of the Atlanta Constitution, was fatally injured, and her father badly hurt this afternoon when their automobile was struck by a Louisville & Nashville freight train near Cartersville, Ga. Miss Dubose died early tonight at a local hospital.

Mr. Dubose and his daughter were en route to the home of the latter at Spring Hill, Tenn., when the accident occurred. A sharp curve, it is said, prevented the engineer of the train seeing the automobile.

Lincoln County Butter in Demand

H. J. McRoberts, manager of the Stanford Creamery Co., received an order from a merchant at Richmond Saturday for a consignment of butter. The merchant stated the market there was completely exhausted and that he would take all Mr. McRoberts could let him have. As the demand for the local creamery's output is constantly growing, the management could only let the Richmond man have 25 pounds. The market price here is 40 cents, and the supply is barely equal to the demand. Such a scarcity of the commodity was never known before in this community so early in the winter season.

Cupid's Darts

County Clerk Cooper issued marriage licenses to the following couples last week and sent them on their way rejoicing:

To Lorenz Pumpfry, who wedded Miss Lillie Roberts. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's father, Wm. Roberts.

Rosecoe Wilson and Miss Laura Horton were made one in a ceremony performed at the home of Arch Horton, the bride's father, at his home on Neal's Creek.

Varney Smith secured license to wed Miss Bettie Leper, the ceremony being performed by Rev. K. G. Martin at his home in the southern part of the county.

Frank Wilcher and Miss Bexie Dolk were married at the home of Zack Dolk near Waynesburg. The bride is a former Casey county girl, but for two years has made her home with her parents in this county.

Well Known Negro Dies

Frank Adkins, a highly respected negro died yesterday at his home here. He was about 55 years old and when quite young was engaged as night porter for the old Myers House, conducted here for many years by the late Sidney Myers and later by E. H. Barnside, also deceased.

Adkins became so accustomed to meeting the night trains that the time of their arrival was almost indelibly stamped upon his mind and it is said of him that he could lie down upon the counter of the old hotel and sleep up to within ten or fifteen minutes of train time, and that he never failed to awaken a traveling man in plenty of time to catch his train. Many residents of the town got into the habit of engaging this faithful negro to call them for trains when they happened to want to leave town at night and none was he known to oversleep himself.

After the Myers House ceased operations some ten years ago, Adkins established an umbrella repair shop and plied his trade until he was taken down some months ago. He was a polite, faithful darkey and his race would do well to emulate his course in life.
